Der Workshop wird auf englisch gehalten. Solltest du eine Übersetzung ins Deutsche wünschen, lass es uns bitte 72 Stunden vor dem Beginn des Workshops wissen. Gerne organisieren wir eine Übersetzung, wenn wir es rechtzeitig erfahren.

In these turbulent times, when the threads of humanity feel distressed, women are called to awaken the clear, pure, and receptive heart.
A heart that can be guided and, in turn, guide others into harmony.

This is not the task of women alone, but the sacred secret of feminine consciousness, a truth carried within both women and men.

To step into this holy work, we must first lay down what burdens us: the old anger, the deep pains, the unhealed frustrations, and the false beliefs that dim our essence. Only then can we rise into the fullness of who we were created to be.

The world longs for the healing breath of the feminine, a light that dissolves shadows, restores balance, and mends the wounds within our families and our communities.

In this class, we will gently, yet powerfully work to clear the veils of anger, fear and sadness.

We will return, with Allah's help, to the radiance that is our birthright, the light, the beauty, the intuition, and the deep, perceptive wisdom that can see and shape a better world.

You are all warmly invited.

We hope to see you and connect with your beautiful hearts.
